BUK Most Crises-Free and Cult-Free University – Col. Kukasheka

The Director of the Army Public Relations, Colonel Sani Usman Kukasheka, has applauded Bayero University for been the most crises-free and cult-free University in Nigeria.

Delivering a paper on “Crisis Communication for Security Consciousness - A Case Study of Nigeria” at the first Reunion/Inaugural Annual Lecture of Class 1992 Alumni of Mass Communication Department, Bayero University, he said Nigerian military and intelligence operatives were in all local government areas of the country.

Colonel Kukasheka, however, said at the occasion, which took place on Saturday, November 28, 2015 at Dandatti Abdulkadir Twin Theatre, New Campus that the citizens should not only rely on security for protection, but should be security conscious and provide useful information to relevant security agencies.

He said “from the kind of intelligence we receive regularly from the military and security operatives, the citizens need to be proactive and security conscious while the media intensify campaign on same”.

The Director said internal security challenge was everywhere. The US, the UK and France, amongst others face similar challenges. The difference rallied around the management of threats by the government and the citizens, how knowledgeable they were and how patriotic and united their citizens were against threats of insecurity and crises.

Colonel Kukasheka said the mentioned countries were never divided on politics, ethnical, religious or on professional ground when the interest of their nations was at stake, saying that if Nigerians wanted to build a nation of good brand they had to work for it.

He urged the media to perform its leading role of mobilizing and enlightening the public on the true situation in national war effort to guarantee national security. He said their reports must focus on nationally unifying factors.

“In the on-going war on terror for example, the media must focus on atrocities of Boko Haram terrorists, the monumental humanitarian crises and promote efforts of the Nigerian Army and other security agencies in bringing the carnage to an end”, he disclosed. He urged the citizens to be extra-vigilant and security conscious with the approach of the Xmas and New Year seasons.

The Head of Mass Communication Department, Dr. Balarabe Maikaba, commended the Class 1992 Alumni for initiating the annual lecture and for donating copies of text books to the department.

Also speaking, Dr. Hajara Umar Sanda, a lecturer at the department and member of the class '92 commended the speaker for delivering a timely paper, as well as the Management for the overall development of the University, saying that the turnout at the occasion had been very encouraging.

BUK Boosts Morale of Athletes

The Vice-Chancellor of Bayero University, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, has assured that the management would continue to provide the enabling environment for its sports men and women to excel in major sports competition.

Professor Yahuza Bello was speaking when he received the Vice-President, North West zone of the Nigeria Taekwondo Association, Barrister Sa'ad Adam Abubakar in his office on a courtesy call on Friday, 27th November, 2015.

He said it was not by accident that BUK sports men and women had been excelling in recent times, adding that such successes recorded by the university's contingent might not be unconnected with the efforts of the management at providing them with the enabling environment. 'This we shall continue to do,' he promised.

The Vice-Chancellor stated that the university management knew the importance and role sports used to play in keeping the body healthy which why he said in order to encourage staff to keep their body healthy by engaging in various forms of exercises that the management built a recreational centre for staff relaxation and exercises.

Speaking on the Taekwondo Legacy seminar which BUK was hosting, the Vice-Chancellor thanked the executive of the association for choosing Kano and BUK for the hosting of the North West zone, and assured them that BUK management was willing to assist the association any time such need arose. He wished them a successful and hitch-free seminar.

Earlier, the Vice-President North West of the association, Barrister Sa'ad Adam Abubakar, told the Vice-Chancellor that the game of Taekwondo came to Nigeria about 30 years ago and was only visible in the southern part of the country particularly Lagos.

He said it was in an effort to unify the game of Taekwondo and make it national that the Nigeria Taekwondo Association organised a Legacy seminar to be held in each of the country's Geopolitical zones, adding that already the seminar had taken place in 4 zones; South-South version took place in Calabar, South East in Enugu, North Central in Makurdi and South West in Ibadan and 'today we are witnessing that of North West in Kano.'

Barrister Abubakar said Kano State presence was felt in Taekwondo when it was represented at the Olympics plus the interest BUK showed in the game. These according to him were the reasons why the Legacy seminar for the North West zone was allocated to Kano and BUK in particular to host.

He thanked the BUK management for agreeing to host the seminar.

The Taekwondo Association through its North West Vice-President, Barrister Abubakar presented a Plaque to the Vice-Chancellor in recognition of his support for the game of Taekwondo and a Black Belt for the honour in hosting the Taekwondo Legacy Seminar.

Fall in Fuel Prices Internationally May Be a Blessing To Nigeria – Dr. Shevel

President, Galilee International Management Institute (GIMD), Israel, Dr. Joseph Shevel, has predicted that fall in fuel prices in the world market may be good to Nigerian economy.

Dr. Joseph Shevel who spoke when he paid a courtesy visit to the Vice Chancellor, Professor Yahuza Bello, said too much dependence on crude oil by Nigeria at the expense of agriculture was the major reasons why her economy remained backward.

According to Dr Joseph, it has now become imperative that oil alone would not be able to provide Nigeria with the required income to cater for her needs. Therefore, it had become necessary to diversify as a means of getting more income.

The GIMD President said if Nigeria could take Agriculture seriously the economy would develop within a very short time.

'I assure you Kano State alone considering its Dams and large expanse of fertile land will produce enough food for Nigeria,' Dr. Joseph added.

On why he was in Kano, Dr. Joseph Shevel said he came to sign MOU with Kano State government on training of 100 youth on irrigation by his institution. He prayed that his visit to the university would strengthen the relationship between Bayero University and his institution.
