1ST INTERFAITH DIALOGUE LECTURE:

How Islamophobia Becomes a Thriving Business, Political Tool

An erudite scholar and Professor of History at the Malcom – X College, Chicago State University, United States of America, Professor Misbahuddin Ahmad Rufa'i has likened Islamophobia to a thriving business where its promoters rake in fortunes from wealthy Christians/Jews who are willing to invest a lot of resources to support the unjustified crusade against the Islamic faith.

He said, in the United States apart from using Islamophobia as a business, some politicians of late have also turned it into a political strategy for wooing votes from the gullible American electorates.

Professor Misbahuddin was speaking at the 1st Interfaith Dialogue Lecture series titled: American Islamophobia: A Historical and Contemporary look at Inter and Intra Faith Relations, which took place on Monday 21st March, 2016 at the Musa Abdullahi Auditorium.

He stated that although the donors believe they were supporting a crusade against the spread of Islamic faith, but unknown to them the beneficiaries' antics were only to smile to the banks. 'This is the reason why Islamophobia was being promoted with reckless abandon both here in Nigeria and the United States.'

The Chicago Chief Imam also argued that even here in Nigeria, evidence abound that Evangelical Christians have been using Islamophobia as a means of making money rather than advancing the cause of their religion which they claim they were protecting, but added that Boko Haram's tactics of attacking both Christians and Muslims' places of worships had gone a long way to dissuade prospective donors that Boko Haram's terrorism was not targeted at non-Muslims alone, 'but knew no religious boundary.'

He said, the most unfortunate aspect of the US Islamophobia was that Americans did not believe that a white American could be a terrorist, saying that records showed that there were well over 70 different acts of terrorism in the US, such as attacks on women wearing the Muslim Hijabs, blowing up buildings, indiscriminate shooting and killing of innocent people by youth wielding guns, as well as the shooting and killing of a lot of students by fellow students, all these were never classified as acts of terrorism by the American authority, because they were perpetrated by white persons.

Professor Musbahuddin explained that although everybody in America was free to carry a gun, but that should a Muslim be found with a gun in a social gathering or eatery, he would be arrested and be labelled as a terrorist; this was not minding if all the non-Muslims at the gathering were carrying guns.

He said, even the September/11 World Trade Centre attack; America and the whole of Europe were neither concerned nor talking about the large number of Muslims who lost their lives in the attack including Nigerians, but what preoccupies them was the number of Christians and few Jews that perished in the incident. He added that evidence abound that a lot of Muslims including uniformed firemen were among the first people who participated in rescue operation during the collapse of the World Trade Centre, but nobody was mentioning that, for they were busy casting aspersions on Muslim faithful.

Professor Musbahuddin however, said interfaith dialogue was having a strong effect in the US, and gave as example Chicago, where he was living that it was Christians that asked them to use their church as their place of worship, saying that if there was no understanding and mutual respect there was no way the Christians would allow them (Muslims) the use of their church building as a place of prayers.

He said, “interfaith relationship was capable of building a strong bridge between various faiths, those of us in existence and those to come after us,” adding ‘in Islam if your neighbor, whether a Christian or Muslim is not safe from your negative antics, then you must begin to question your faith.’

On intrafaith, the erudite scholar said the major problem with it was racism, because according to him those with coloured skin would want to believe they were rightful owners of the religion while others are back benchers. He said, all Muslims are equal in the sight of Allah and that only those who fear Allah the most are the exalted ones.

He thanked the Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, the Director of the Centre for Islamic Civilization and Interfaith Dialogue, Dr. Bashir Aliyu Umar for giving him the opportunity to speak on the topic: American Islamophobia.

Earlier in his address, the Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, said the choice of the topic, ‘American Islamophobia’ was apt because of the rising but unjustified fear of Islam by the West, which he said was becoming serious phenomenon and menace.

He said the big question is, ‘what do we do to minimize the craze about Islamophobia? The answer would be for us to live our lives in line with the dictates of Islam, by respecting one another’s faith and tolerable of each other’s shortcomings.’

The Vice Chancellor congratulated the Centre for hosting the third lecture series, the one on American Islamophobia being the first on Inter faith Dialogue while the earlier two were on Islamic Civilization.

In his address, the Director of the Centre, Dr. Bashir Aliyu Umar, said the centre which was established last year was dedicated to carrying out research on Islamic Civilization, Inter and Intra faith dialogue as a means of building confidence and understanding among different religions in the country.

He said “today’s lecture was the 1st in the series of lectures on Interfaith dialogue.” He thanked the Vice Chancellor for his support towards the successful hosting of the occasion and also expressed his appreciation to the guest lecturer, Professor Musbahuddin Ahmad Rufa’i who came all the way from the US to deliver the thought provoking lecture on American Islamophobia.

In his short remarks, Chairman of the occasion, Professor Abubakar Mustapha, the former Vice Chancellor of University of Maiduguri, said the rise of Islamophobia was part of the fallout from the Iran- American cold war, and added that interfaith dialogue would only be meaningful if there was mutual respect of each other’s faith.

President of the Bayero University Alumni Association, Alhaji Muhammad Datti Usman has expressed concern over the low turnout of the Alumni members at the Kano branch of the association, urging them to come forward to register and participate in the activities of the association.
