BUK's Centre for Qur'anic Studies Graduates First Set of Trained Alarammomi

By Bala G. Abdullahi

The first set of over 200 Qur'anic memorizers (Alarammomi) that were trained by the Bayero University's Centre for Qur'anic Studies graduated on Saturday, 28th July, 2018. The grand occasion took place at the Mahmud Tukur Theatre, Old Campus.

In his address, the Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello described the occasion as not only historic, but 'a dream come true.'

He said Bayero University Management decided to set up the Centre as part of its effort to correct the earlier mistakes made in which Qur'anic memorizers (Alarammomi), though intellectuals in their own callings, but due to lack of western education, were relegated to the background and could not be allowed into the nation's scheme of things.

Professor Bello stated that the alarammomi underwent trainings in General Science, English, Elementary Arithmetic and Computer science as well as Teaching Methods. He stated that at the end of the training, they were on that day being certificated by the University. This will enable them secure employment as teachers, contest elective positions and even further their education to higher level 'if they chose so,' he remarked.

Earlier, the Director of the Centre, Dr. Muhammad Babangida Muhammad, had traced the history of the establishment of the centre and gave kudos to the pioneer Director of the Centre, Professor Ibrahim Muhammad, as well as commended the foresight of the university's management for establishing the centre.

He said a total of 219 alarammomi were trained by the centre, adding that the centre strengthened the Qur'anic recitation of the trainees as well as exposed them to training in other western education courses. Dr. Babangida said the certificates that would be issued to them on that day, would qualify them to secure employment as teachers and as imams of juma'at mosques all over the Islamic world.

Also speaking, the Deputy Governor of Kano State, Professor Hafiz Abubakar; represented by Dr. Bakari Abubakar commended BUK for introducing the programme which, he said, would go a long way to accord alarammomi recognition as well as their rightful place in the nation's scheme of things.

Others who spoke were; Gwani Yusuf Sheikh Khalifa Isiaka Rabi'u, the Chief Imam of Kano, Professor Muhammad Sani Zahrandeen as well as the representative of the Deputy Governor of Zamfara State, Alhaji Wakala Mohammed and the Senior Special Assistant to the President on National Assembly Matters, Hon. Suleiman Abdurrahman Kawu.

Professor Biswas expressed delight that some staff of Bayero University, including the Deputy Vice Chancellor (Academics), Professor Sagir Adamu Abbas, had been helping the university's fruitful take-off. He explained that their second set of students would commence their lectures in January 2019.

given to Bayero University. He said with the experience of the management of Skyline University in its UAE campus, the mentorship would become smooth, because the major issue was the environment in which the university would now operate.

Professor Bello expressed optimism that the private universities coming up in Nigeria would accommodate more candidates seeking admission. He said this year about 54, 000 candidates applied for admission into Bayero University. However, only about 7,000 would be given admission. He said "our role is to mentor and guide you; we are not going to interfere or influence decision on you in staff recruitment and other related matters."

This could bring pleasure to the students throughout their stay in the university. It was hoped that the foundation would help the university by providing more social amenities.

Earlier, Mr. Hamid Saeed Muhammad, the leader of the delegation, said they chose to partner with BUK because it was among the best universities in Nigeria. "We are going to help the university in continuing with its developmental projects, which will help students to learn effectively," he added.

Mr. Saeed also emphasized that their foundation would make or provide easy access to education, which was not just a basic necessity but a key factor in reducing child labour and poverty. We are keen to strive and bring all the un-enrolled children back to school seats. We build and reconstruct schools and education facilities and ensure to create a healthy teaching environment that will be of positive value to our future youths in the country. We believe that clean water is the first step to get out from poverty and sickness. There is more than enough fresh water in the world for domestic use, however, the poor are largely excluded but we are going to work hard in overcoming the problem in the campuses," Mr Saeed wound up.

Kano NYSC Sensitizes Students By Mustapha Gide

The National Youth Service Corps (NYSC) has sensitised the final year students of Bayero University on the mode of registering with them to avoid mistakes that prevented some of the graduating students to proceed on time for their mandatory NYSC scheme.

Mrs. Rahila Mathew Abdullahi of the Mobilisation

Department, Kano State NYSC Secretariat, while briefing the Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, on Thursday, 19th July, 2018, shortly after the exercise, said the students were briefed on method of registration and how to go about solving problems that previously prevented graduands to register on time with the NYSC after completing their studies.

She told the Vice Chancellor about the need for the University to partner with JAMB in an effort to curtail the challenges leading to encountering problems by the students in trying to register for their mandatory NYSC participation.

She explained that most of the problems emanate from lack of placing the JAMB registration numbers of students, which, she said, is more common with transfer students, especially those who transfer from universities abroad. She, however, said JAMB had introduced a method of displaying students' registration numbers for schools and universities to check for verification of the registration numbers of their graduands.

Mrs. Rahila said students

coming on transfer from universities abroad do not have JAMB registration numbers. This she said, they had to register and secure such numbers before their graduation to be able to proceed for the NYSC scheme. She urged students with such and similar problems to liaise with their respective NYSC Liaison Officers at Student Affairs Divisions of their respective universities in good time to avoid encountering problems.

The Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, expressed gratitude to the NYSC secretariat for their concern to help the University and its students in solving problems militating against early proceeding to partake in the scheme. He assured the secretariat that Bayero University would continue to liaise with JAMB and NYSC secretariat to avoid such and similar problems.

Professor Bello was speaking when receiving the Registrar/Chief Executive Officer of the Radiographers Registration Board, Dr. Mark Okeji who was paying a courtesy call, on Monday 23rd July, 2018.

He said with the elevation of the hitherto department of Medicine to a College of Health Sciences with about four Faculties, Bayero University had taken a giant stride towards achieving its aim of excelling in medical and health training.

The Vice Chancellor recalled the positive role played by the leadership of the Board during the formation stage of the Radiography programme in the university and thanked the Board for the advice, observations and suggestions, which the management implemented, and culminated into the current breakthrough the department is witnessing.

Professor Bello said BUK had always regarded accreditation as a routine and necessary exercise whose end result will always be to the advantage of the university. He said anything that will enhance the quality of its programmes would be welcome and that was why 'we warmly welcome the accreditation team and hope that you will help us cross the "T's" and dot the "I's."

Earlier, the Registrar/CEO of the Board, Dr. Mark Okeji, had told the Vice Chancellor that the team was in the University for an Accreditation Exercise, saying that, about two years ago, the Board was in BUK and granted interim accreditation to the new programme.

Dr. Okeji stated that BUK was the first citadel of learning in the North West zone to start the programme and was only second to University of Maiduguri from the North East zone, saying that the Board would do everything humanly possible to assist BUK within the ambit of its mandate of ensuring strict compliance with laid down regulations.

Sokoto Caliphate Was Set Up on the Principle of Justice and Rule of Law - Prof. Bunza By Rabi'u M. Sagir

The Islamic Political Class Committee of the Muslim Student's Society of Nigeria (MSSN) organized a seminar on Thursday, 19th July, 2018 at Mahmud Tukur Theatre on the topic: Sokoto Caliphate and What It Represents for Nigerian Muslims.

The Guest Lecturer, Professor Mukhtar Umar Bunza, Commissioner for Higher Education, Kebbi State, said Sokoto Caliphate was set up on the principles of justice and rule of law. It evolved into a quasi-federal system of emirates and local jurisdictions with balanced responsibilities. One of the central functions of the Caliphate leadership included emirs or their equivalents mediating conflicts and forestalling any before it undermined the integrity of the state.

Professor Bunza said lack of prudence and accountability in public office had been the major cog in the wheels of the development of Nigerian as nation. The agencies responsible for checking the excesses of public servants should be strengthened for good governance and development. He said in the Sokoto Caliphate, Abdullahi ibn Fodiyo was in charge of the western flank and directed all governors and officers, as contained in Diya'ul Hukkam, that all public officers must declare their assets and interests before they assumed public responsibility and must do the same when they left office. For anyone found to have wealth above what he earned from his work, the ruler should confiscate and restore it to the treasury. The watch word of Sokoto Caliphate was Justice in theory and in practice.

Another speaker, Dr. Saidu Ahmad Dukawa from the Political Science Department urged Nigerian leaders to ensure good governance in the country through accountability and probity, transparency and equity, social security and welfare to alleviate poverty and encourage developmental skills in the populace.

The Ameer of the Association, Zubair A. Usman, in his welcome address called on Nigerian Muslims to abide by the rules and regulations of Islam, so as to apply the positive values of our religion in the practical activities in the society.
