

Director, CAMRAT Suggests Specialized Training to Reduce Maternal Mortality Rate

By Fausat A. Opayemi

The Director, Centre for Advanced Medical Research and Training (CAMRAT), Professor Hadiza Shehu Galadanci, has called for the need to give specialized training through research to reduce the maternal mortality rate.

She made this call while leading a delegation of Association of Fetomaternal Specialists of Nigeria (AFEMSON) on a courtesy call on the Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, on Tuesday, 17th of July, 2018 at the VC's Committee Room.

According to her, members of the association were in Kano State for the 2nd Scientific Conference and Annual General Meeting, with a scientific packaged session on the use of new technologies, such as Doppler machine, for their trainees on the major causes of maternal mortality and how it could be reduced to the barest minimum.

The Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, in his response, expressed happiness that some of the scientific sessions would take place at Centre for Advanced Medical Research, headed by Professor Galadanci, who has always been in the fore front to eradicate infant and maternal mortality. He assured the delegates of the University's willingness to support the association.

The Vice Chancellor said that the conference would enable members to share common practice and enable key personnel master the new technology to combat maternal mortality.

Professor Bello told the delegates that the University was open to criticisms, which could make it improve on what it had achieved.

Bayero University to Collaborate with Nile College, Sudan

By Abubakar Yusuf

The Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, said Bayero University was ready to collaborate with Nile College, Khartoum, Sudan in areas that could benefit the two institutions.

Professor Bello disclosed this on Tuesday, July 17, 2018 in his office when delegates from Nile College, institutions in Egypt alone.

The Vice Chancellor, while congratulating the Nile College on the successes they had recorded within the short period of its existence, called on the College to bring out specific areas that they wanted Bayero University and the college to join hands, which would bring development to the two institutions.

The leader of the delegates, Mr. Hamad El-Turabi, who is the Academic Secretary of the Nile College, in his speech, said the college was established in 2007 as a private institution that was concerned mainly with medical studies. He said by next year the college would be a full pledged University.

He said the college had students from many African Countries, especially Nigeria and was established by twelve professors of Medicine. He expressed hope that the two institutions would benefit much if they collaborated.

Mr. Hamad thanked Bayero University for the reception given to him and his team. He prayed to Allah to make this visit the beginning of the desired relationship between the college and Bayero University, Kano.

VC, Prof. M. Y. Bello (left), presenting a copy of Annual Report to Mr. Hamad El-Turabi

Khartoum, paid him a courtesy visit. He said Bayero University had collaboration with many universities in the world, most especially in the African continent. He said Bayero University had linkages with at least seven

ACE III: CDA Organizes Workshop on Proposal Writing

By Nura Garba

The Centre for Dryland Agriculture (CDA) has organized a workshop on Proposal Writing to prepare staff of BUK to respond to a call for proposals from the World Bank. The workshop is facilitated by a Belgium based Strategic Training and Project and Fund Management Specialist, Ir. Gerard den Ouden.

The World Bank under its Africa Centres of Excellence (ACEs) will support university centres to specialize in specific areas as regional centres of excellence. The new call, dubbed: "ACEIII" or "ACE Impact" invites proposals from universities in Africa to address the continent's development challenges through skilled manpower and appropriate technologies.

Bayero University is developing proposals in five areas: Renewable Energy and Development; Population Health and Policy; Biotechnology and Industrial Research for Development and Innovative Teaching and Learning. The Centre for Dryland Agriculture (CDA) is applying for renewal of its ACE project.

Each of the four new proposals could win up to $5 million, while the proposal for renewal of CDA's ACE Project could be up to $2 million.

The workshop commenced on Monday, 6th July and will end on Saturday, 21st July, 2018.

Sports Directorate, One of the Functional Directorates in the University... Vice Chancellor

By Rabi'u M. Sagir

The Vice Chancellor, Bayero University, Kano, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, has described the University's Sports Directorate as one of the functional Directorates known for outstanding performance within and outside the University. That was why the University Management was always ready to support any sport activity planned by the directorate in order to promote the wellbeing of our students as well as to create peaceful co-existence among them.

The Vice Chancellor, who was represented by the Deputy Vice Chancellor (Administration), Professor Adamu Idris Tanko, during a courtesy call on Thursday, 12th July, 2018 at his office said that BUK would be ready to assist Higher Institutions Sports League Association within its own capacity. He said the University was more than ready to support any activity that would create a bright future for its young talented players, so as to create a sport “industry” that could help the nation in grooming young players in International context, who could represent the nation in world games.

Mr. Onu Abraham, the leader of the delegation from Higher Institution Sport League Game Association, said they were in BUK to inspect the facilities that were available in the university and that they were satisfied with the conditions of the facilities.

He, however, said that the University needed to upgrade some of its facilities and to apply maintenance culture in some areas in order to keep the facilities safe and long lasting.

Mr. Abraham said the main objective of their visit to BUK was to have an interactive session about the up-coming tournament among 16 universities across the country. The draws of tournament would hold on Friday, 19th July, 2018 and the tournament itself kick off on 1st August, 2018 and last for 14 weeks. 30 matches would be played and the nature of the game, which was home and away, and the final match would take place in Lagos.

Mr. Abraham mentioned that his association would provide all the necessary sport kits for the players as well as for their transport and accommodation. They needed the University to provide about 70 students, who would play some roles of sensitizing people and advertising the tournament, which would soon take off.

The Chairman, Sport Consultative Forum, Professor A.K. Abdussalam, welcomed the delegation to BUK and assured them that the University would participate in the tournament.

Faculty of Law Honours Baba Dayyabu By Rabi'u M. Sagir

The Faculty of Law, Bayero University, Kano has conducted a send-off in honour of Mallam Muhammad Dayyabu Gwazaye, who retired from the service of the University recently.

Speaking during the occasion on Thursday 12th July, 2018 at the Faculty's conference hall, the Dean, Faculty of Law, Professor Mamman Lawan Yusufari, described him as an excellent and hardworking staff member, who distinguished himself from others by performing excellently throughout his stay in the University and wished him a successful retirement.

Professor Aminu Kabir congratulated the honoree for his outstanding performance during his stay with the University and urged other staff to emulate Baba Dayyabu's approach to work in order to emulate or even surpass him in every aspect of the University's work.

Dean, Faculty of Law (right), Prof. M. L. Yusufari & Prof. A. Kabir holding the photograph of the retiree

Professor A.B. Ahmad commented thus: “We are here today to celebrate one of the most excellent and hardworking personnel that shows difference in his style of work. The commitment, integrity and accountability of Baba Dayyabu are profound. So, we are really going to miss him in the faculty and the university in general. We are advising the dean to do all what he can do in his capacity to retain him in the faculty”.

Responding, the honoree thanked the Faculty Management for organizing the grand send-off party on his behalf, saying that only God could repay them back from what they had done to him. “The memory of this send-off event will forever be in my mind”. Thank you and God bless you all,' Dayyabu acknowledged.

INEC: Invitation to Participate in a Zonal Voter Education Outreach for Tertiary Institutions

The Independent National Electoral Commission (INEC) and its partners (the European Union (EU Delegation to Nigeria and ECOWAS), European Centre for Electoral Support (ECES) and the Youth Initiative for Advocacy Growth and Advancement (YIAGA) invite members of the University Community to join them in the programme, active driver of the 'Youth Vote Count' Voter Education Campaign proposed to hold on Tuesday 7th August, 2018 from 9:00am at Mahmud Tukur Theatre Old Campus.

A statement signed by the Chairman, INEC, Professor Mahmoud Yakubu, noted that the ultimate goal of the campaign was to increase the level of youth participation and boost citizens' trust and confidence in the electoral process. This is part of activities hosted in furtherance of the Commission's effort to deepen the participation of youth in the electoral process ahead of the 2019 General Elections.

The youth-specific voter education campaign aims at mobilizing young people, especially first-time voters, to exercise their franchise by registering to vote in the 2019 General Elections. The programme will focus on the Continuous Voter Registration (CVR), collection of Permanent Voter' Card (PVC), the importance of tolerance and non-violence in electoral competition and other issues likely to undermine the participation of students/youth in elections. It will also provide an opportunity for students to engage with the INEC leadership and policy-makers on matters related to elections and citizen's participation in the electoral process.

The campaign is designed for students in selected tertiary institutions across the six geo-political zones of the country and provides a platform for instilling the values of patriotism, volunteerism, civic participation and opting for alternative or different opinions in young people. The maiden programme was held at the University of Abuja on 3rd May, 2018, followed by the second in Lagos on the 26th June, 2018.

Students will be exposed to information on the electoral process and how young people can engage the electoral and political processes. It will feature panel discussions, community outreach activities, social media campaigns and volunteers' recruitment. It is expected that the program will increase the enthusiasm of young people to engage in the electoral process by participating in the Continuous Voter' Registration and the collection of PVC's.
