

DVC Academics Challenges Varsities, Colleges of Education to Improve Edu. Systems

By Rabi'u M. Sagir

The Deputy Vice Chancellor (Academics), Professor Sagir Adamu Abbas, has advised universities and colleges of education to improve the way they produce teachers, who are responsible for teaching at primary and secondary schools across the country.

Speaking on Monday, 4th May, 2018, during a Dissemination Meeting on the Evidence-Based Education Policy and Practices of Teacher Recruitment and Development in Kano State organised by the Centre for Gender Studies, Bayero University, he said the National Policy on Education stipulated that part of the aims and objectives of education at all levels was to inculcate, amongst other things, national consciousness and unity, which could produce the right values and attitudes for the survival of individuals.

Professor Abbas at the meeting in the Centre said provision of the right skills, effective training and administering the right physical equipment and facilities would enable individuals to contribute to the development of the society. He expressed concern that many teachers in our schools lacked effective methods of teaching.

He said universities and colleges of education should be able to improve their students by equipping them with professional skills that could help them to discharge their responsibilities efficiently and effectively.

Earlier, Dr. Hassana Darma, urged government to give Special Education graduands special consideration as every school in the state needed them because some of the students had difficulties in their learning, adding that such effort would help in solving their problems.
